A REMARKABLE SCENE.

Evangelism on a New Basis Dr. Wm. J. Dawson's Interesting Story.

That was a remarkable scene at Des Moines, Iowa, the other day in connection with the National Council of Congregational churches, when Dr. Lyman Abbott, Dr. Amory H. Bradford, Dr. N. D. Hillis and other dignified and unemotional leaders of the denomination were on their knees in prayer with several hundred of their brethren, many of them weeping and all of them powerfully affected by one of those sudden spiritual movements which now and then takes possession of and aways a religious assemblage. "So the Boston Transcript declared in an editorial article. And the influential force in producing the remarkable scene was the story of Dr. Wm. J. Dawson, relating how his own church was led into a practical attempt to reach the masses about it with the gracious evangel of Christ. Dr. Dawson is now in this country and will visit most of the states in the Union in an endeavor to arouse the churches to what he terms, "Normal Evangelism." He will speak in the Congregational church of this city next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The people of the city are invited. And it will be well for those who wish seats to come early. On the following day, Wednesday, the 8th, meetings are to be held at Bethany church, Montpelier, morning, afternoon and evening. Many are expected from all over the state to attend.

IBSEN'S MASTERPIECE.

From the Atlantic to the Pacific; from Maine to Texas, the critical theatre goer has felt the mediocrity of the modern moral play. That the majority of so called problem plays are weak, lacking in their entertaining qualities, is evidenced by their short lives. "Ghosts," the stirring masterpiece of the Norwegian dramatist genius, is not only powerful to the extent of having actually caused strong men to cry out, but only holds audience in such spellbound attention that after the fall of the final curtain scarcely a person moves until the ushers throw open the exit doors. From the first production of "Ghosts" this season the immense audiences have demonstrated its popularity. Yet it is not the play alone which has won success. Claus Bogel and Adelaide Fitz Allen and their gifted company portray the subtle force of Ibsen's domestic tragedy with such excellence that as characterized by an eminent New York critic: "One forgets one is in a theatre and that the people who move before him are actors."

This wonderful play will be at the Barre Opera House Saturday, February 11th.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Miss Elizabeth Julia Emery of Cincinnati has presented another dormitory to the Tuskegee institution. This is the third one she has presented.

Adèle Grout, countess of Essex, famed as a London beauty, but for years a delicate woman because of nerves shattered by society's demands, has become a vegetarian enthusiast.

It is said that if Miss Helen Miller Gould were to comply with all the requests for money which she receives it would take her about two years to dispose of her fortune of $15,000,000.

Mme. Le Burgy, who is regarded in Paris as the natural successor of Mme. Sarah Bernhardt, has been on the stage only three years. She looks more English than French and speaks English fluently.

Miss Julia Marlowe's library is the admiration of all friends. Her hobby is rare bindings, and in order that she might know whereof she spoke and bought she took time to learn the book binding trade.

Countess Helene von Schweditz recently passed a most satisfactory examination in dental surgery. Germany has many titled practicing lawyers and physicians, but the countess is the first titled dentist.

Elizabeth Duse, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Eleonora Duse, the Italian actress, has entered an English college devoted to the study of farming and horticulture. The mother is pleased that the daughter has no stage aspirations.

Mrs. Matilda Caplin recently celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of her birth at the home which she has occupied in Stroughton, Mass., for the last seventy years. Children, grand children and great-grandchildren assisted in the festivities.
